Verbiage

The Indoor Pool at The Greenbrier opened in 1912 as part of the Mineral Bath Building. The water is supplied by Alvon Springs within the Anthony Caves, 12 miles from The Greenbrier. The pool holds 188,000 gallons of water and ranges from 3 feet to 9 feet in depth. It is located in the Bath Wing of the resort, adjacent to the world-renowned mineral spa. Its operating hours vary by season, and a lifeguard is always on duty during operating hours. A large selection of towels, pool equipment and men's and women's locker rooms are available.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

WHEN DID THE INDOOR POOL OPEN?

The grand opening of the Indoor Pool was in 1912 as part of the Mineral Bath Building. At that point, the resort had been famous as a mineral spring resort and this new building offered the most modern spa facilities of the day.

IS THE INDOOR POOL OPEN YEAR ROUND?

Yes! The Indoor Pool is open year round and daily. Hours may slightly vary, depending on the season.

WHO SUPPLIES THE WATER FOR THE INDOOR POOL?

The water is supplied by Alvon Springs within the Anthony Caves about 12 miles from The Greenbrier and is pumped directly from the spring to the resort's million gallon reservoir.

WHO DESIGNED THE INDOOR POOL?

The Indoor Pool and bath facilities were designed by Harris and Richmond, architects from Philadelphia. The walls of the pool are 18 inches of concrete, upon which were impressed thousands of tiles. The tile work was done by the Mueller Mosaic Tile Company of Trenton, New Jersey, and those same tiles are still there to this day. The Indoor Pool has a carpeted lounge area for swimmers and families located along the outside of the pool.

DO I NEED TO BRING A TOWEL?

No! The Greenbrier offers pool towels for your use, as well as Ladies and Gentleman's Locker Rooms, family changing rooms and showers. Adjacent to the indoor pool is an aerobics studio, as well as the Rhododendron Spa Cafe, with delicious snacks and drinks (open seasonally). There is also an outdoor seating area just outside the pool doors.

IS THERE A HOT TUB?

No, there is not a hot tub located in the Indoor Pool area, but The Greenbrier Spa offers day passes for purchase to access the sauna and steam room.

WHO HAS ACCESS TO THE INDOOR POOL?

The Indoor Pool is open to overnight guests during regular hours of operations. The Indoor Pool is available for private parties during and after regular hours of operations, to check availability contact Event Services (extension 7241) for more information.
